English Intensive Course

Subject:

Spend 5 days in this unique combination of law and language applying your English to a range of professional and social contexts. The main emphasis of the seminar is the expansion of your skills in English language and knowledge of English law. The course consists of two main parts. At the beginning of the week you will improve your business English and practise working techniques (simulation of meetings, communication in a business context etc.) and exchange views and experiences.

In the second half of the week the lecturer will give an introduction to English Common Law terminology and concepts. This part of the course includes legal communication, contract drafting and other exercises.

Dozenten David Hutchins · Ian Whalley
